The NAUI First Aid Instructor Workshop (FAIW) is designed for any NAUI Leader (Assistant Instructor, Skin Diving Instructor, Divemaster, Instructor) who wishes to teach the NAUI First Aid – Powered by DAN courses. The FAIW is a two-day workshop, with the first day focused on First Aid skills and a second day devoted to the methodology to teach and administer these courses. These workshops are intended to refresh First Aid and CPR skills, provide valuable information concerning new First Aid standards, as well as give attendees additional First Aid training and instructions on how to implement and conduct these courses.

These workshops will be available at various trade and consumer shows and other international locations. Check the www.nauai.org/events page for additional FAIW's to be held throughout the year. If you have a large number of NAUI leaders in your area or facility wanting to become a NAUI First Aid Instructor and cannot attend one of the listed workshop locations, contact the NAUI Training Department to discuss other options.

Pre-requisites:

A pre-requisite for attending the workshop is completion of the eight NAUI Instructor eLearning academic modules (First Aid Core Instructor Module, BLS, HCP, EO2, HMLI, Neuro, DEMP, and DFAPro). These must be completed prior to your workshop date. These academic modules are comprehensive and our advice is not to try and complete them at the last minute.
